

Nexplant Use Case

A Quick Response to Market with Automated Process Control

A remote monitoring and controlling enables automation of production process and resource management comprehensively. Product volume changes depending on facility automation and process, so it is quick to respond to a changing requirement in market.

What are optimal conditions for a changing process?

Process quality 30% improved

Rework rate reduced 