

Policy fund loan

It is possible to minimize the document screening and physical visits for loan evaluation/approval.

By automating work such as balance confirmation and ledger adjustment, it is possible to reduce risks in operation due to the input of human resources.

- Secure stable trust network between organizations that participate in various loan through blockchain
- Carry out easy and convenient and easy load application through RPA and AICR by reducing risks of errors