50% of organizations will redirect their investments to customer experience innovations.

Wearable technology allows retailers, in the grocery industry, to create enhanced customer experiences

Break Time

Shipment arriving in 5 mins

Help needed at cash register

Get notification regarding shipments and the products they hold

Identify available employees for help with specific tasks

Identify available employees for help with specific tasks

Manager : Nick

Manage breaks easily for employees across any store location

Samsung EMM for Wearables allows employees to use technology that is hands-free and easy to use so employees are able to complete their tasks as quickly as possible.

