

Video Analytics Use Case

Multi-layered authentication for facility security

The facilities such as a warehouse, office, governmental building, factory and laboratory can enhance the level of security by utilizing multi-layered authentication access control systems integrated with face recognition.

