

Video Analytics Use Case

Urban surveillance for smart city

Nowadays a city is getting smarter with IT services. A city wants to not only ensure the safety and security of the city but also manage urban environments by analyzing all data through the use of cameras and sensors such as a temperature, air quality and water level.

